Info

The new Sputnik series, developed in collaboration with the Russian company Memotek, was born around the corner a particular attention to the development of an object, which had the stand out as its main feature usefulness in situations of survival or danger. Sputnik in Russian means "travel companion" and it is indeed this is the goal of this particularly ductile knife: to be an excellent help in all conditions. The handle rubbery with grooves makes the grip comfortable and safe, it is also equipped with a glass breaker at the end. The surface treatment of the blade is in cerakote, this coating allows both a good edge hold be an easy restore of the same. The sheath is equipped with a spring system and straps included.
