Info

"The" Eddy "decanter defines the world of extreme wine tools in a whole new way. Their functionality has rarely been combined with an aesthetic design language. The incomparable development of the structure to which all the wines are subjected in that respirator is truly fascinating! Once they spin in that texture

The unparalleled rapid development of the structure, which red, white or rosé wines undergo in that respirator is generated by the conical indentations.

The introversive swirling elements create visually interesting color reflections and almost graphic effects in a play with light and contained wine. The volume of this respirator has been sized so that, with a filling of up to 1.5 liters, the extent of the wine surface becomes as large as possible. Than
