Info

Italian Navy Special Operations Unit Combat/Diving knife.

KAIMANO is an exclusive model made for the Italian Navy. The knife was developed and designed in collaboration with the company O.M.G. leader in the supply of military diving equipment. We have subjected the knife to rigorous testing to test the level of oxidation of the blade by leaving it immersed in salt water for over a month. The results obtained convinced the Italian Navy to include the KAIMANO model among its official products. All the main features of the blade were studied and subsequently tested with the collaboration of Special Units to obtain a highly qualified product that respects the required specifications. The sheath features the MOLLE system and can be applied to respirators and BCDs used by Special Units of the Navy.
